Profile

I am an Irish animator and a generally creative person. I have always doodled and scribbled, so I am happy to be able to do it as work. I can bring lots of ideas to a project or just sit and work in silence depending on what you need me for. I worked on some freelance projects alongside my animation studies. Some of my student animations have been shown off at different festivals (Including Animation Dingle and The Rathmullen Film festival)

DICE Academy

Throughout my studies I was involved in the DICE – Design Innovation Creativity and Entrepreneurship programme at LYIT. This involved helping with the annual DICE Conference and being an integral member of the support team since 2018.

In my final year I facilitated an ideation workshop with the students. This project required great organisational skills, excellent teamworking and communication and the ability to adapt and creatively respond to challenges as they arose.
